Athenians Adopt New Policies

Seniors, juniors and sophomores had to adapt to the several changes made this year. They learned by experience that the new attendance policy was going to be enforced. A change in the dress code banished midriffs and halter tops. A new lunch policy forced the students to buy their lunch tickets almost three hours before the lunches were served. The administration appointed a Student Concerned Committee, chaired by Mr. Gentry, consisting of members of the faculty. Study hall was not required for seniors, allowing them to become involved in other, more worthwhile activities.

As time passed students may or may not have been affected by these modifications. Each of the eight hundred and sixteen students did their own thing. As you leaf through the pages of this "Athenian," this will become evident. We found that not only were we seniors, juniors, sophomores, faculty, or administration, we were also Athenians and proud of the heritage that title infers. We had the same goals and the same spirit. We are worthy of the name and the heritage. Through us the ideals of Athens again give voice.

IN US, ATHENS LIVES!

Seniors Intertwine Cultures at CHS

Achievers Annelies Hubregtse, Alicia Gutierrez, and Jørgen Skov Thomsen built a bridge between cultures at CHS. Connie VanCleave and those who attended Girls' and Boys' State bridged the gap between Athenians and other Indiana youth.

Annelies, who stayed with Jerilyn Heuss, was an eighteen-year old secretary from Rotterdam, Holland. She was enthusiastic and participated in sports, joined clubs, and performed in "The Sound of Music." She found the CHS curricular requirements less demanding than the sixteen courses per year required in her homeland.

Alicia was from Cali, Columbia and stayed with the McKeowns. She attended an all girls school, and planned to pursue a career in medicine. She was only seventeen, but had graduated from high school. Alicia spoke no English when she came, but two months later she was doing very well.

Jorgen came to America eager to see a new part of the world. He was from Husby, Denmark, and stayed with the Easterlings. He majored in civics and was interested in teaching. Jørgen enjoyed the American way of life, and was fond of American food.

Miss Montgomery County 1973, Connie VanCleave, reigned during the Montgomery County 4-H Fair. She also competed in the Indiana State Fair Queen contest.

Six boys and three girls, who attended Hoosier Boys' and Girls' State gained new insight into our government. This week-long experience provided an opportunity for meeting new friends.

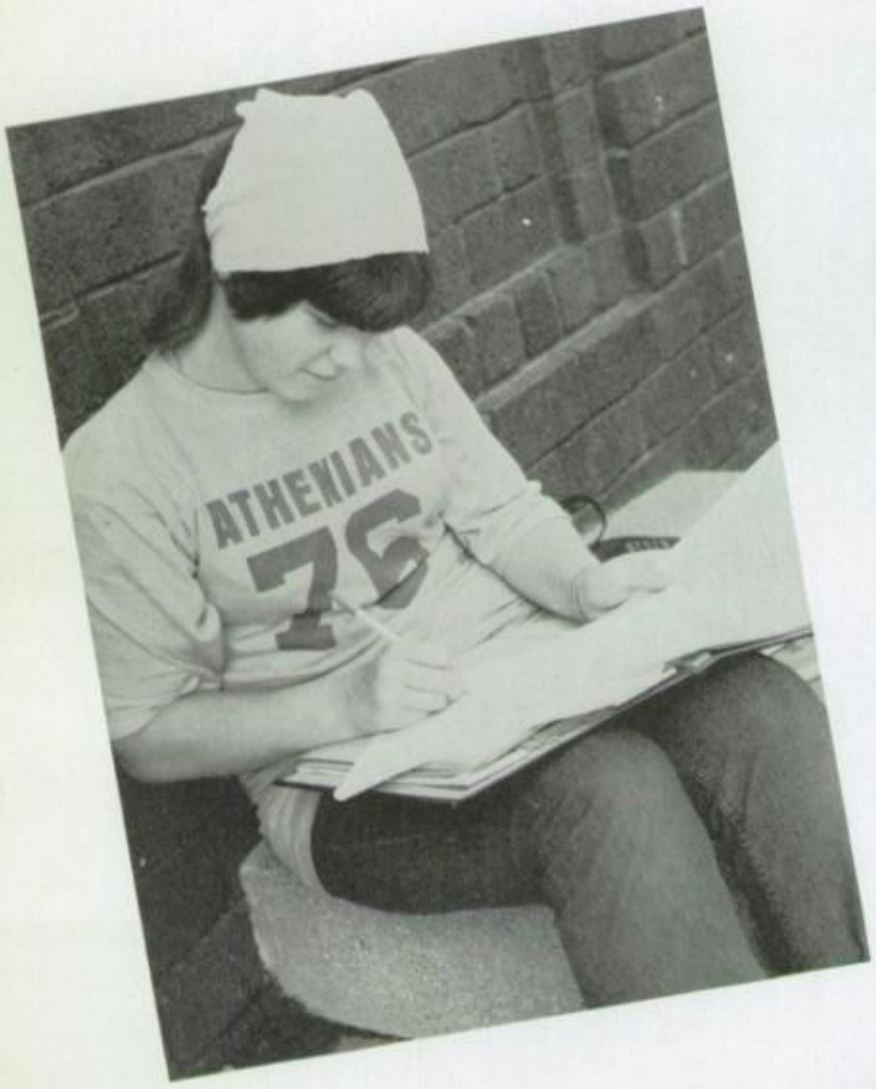
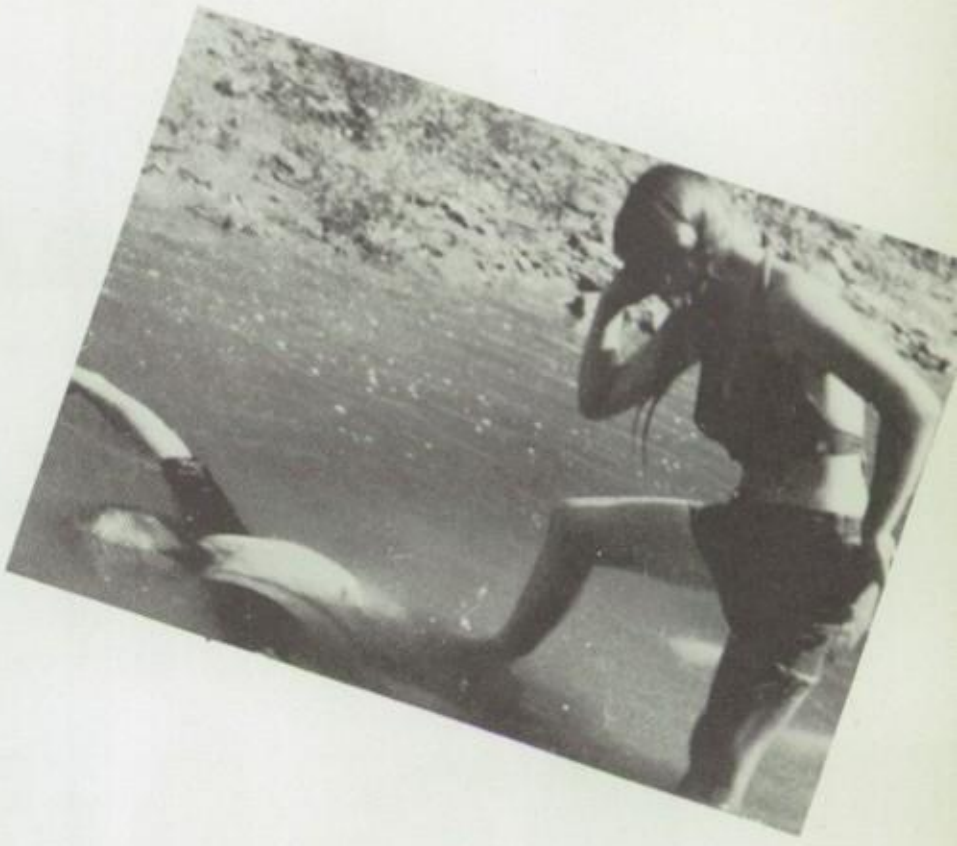
Athens Lives In Personalities





Seniors Meet June 2 With Mixed Emotions

Setting a precedent, the Class of '74 elected the first female senior class president in the history of CHS. During a hectic election week, seniors had a taste of today's politics. After speeches, conventions and campaigning the Gold Party secured five of the six offices.

All seniors acquired the basic concepts of economics and government. Several displayed their academic abilities as winners of various scholastic, leadership and National Merit awards. This year was the time for seniors to look over their years of study and to re-evaluate their ideals and establishment of goals. College, job and scholarship applications, and achievement tests were major concerns of all seniors.

Class and officers together built and won second place in the homecoming float competition. This made their record third, first, second during their three years in CHS. Other activities included skating nights, movies, bicycle riding and the "exhibition of the Beauties" on the annual "Hag Day". Another first was the six elected male cheerleaders squad. Seniors were honored at the prom in April and enjoyed the traditional senior picnic. They met June 2 with mixed emotions as they reluctantly took their last steps as Crawfordsville Athenians, but they will not be forgotten—it was determined to leave Our mark in the Athenian corridors. The high school era is now past, but its memories will endure forever.

1–Cindy Paligraf dances her way to second runner-up in the Junior Miss contest.
2–Beth Boyles, winner of the Scholastic Achievement Award, displayed her talent with an original Christmas monologue.
3–Pam Maxwell, another CHS contestant in the Junior Miss, models her outfit.
4–Diana Pattison, first runner-up and recipient of the poise and appearance award, dedicates a song from the musical "Mame" to her father.
5–Chosen to represent CHS in the National Council Teachers of English were Kathy Mielke and Allison Moore. Besides submitting their autobiographies and creative selections, they took an essay test to show the depth of their reading ability. Mrs. Herr, co-ordinator of the English department, administered their tests.

DESIDERATA

"Go placidly amid the noise and haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence. As far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly; and listen to others, even the dull and ignorant; they too have their story.

Be yourself. Especially, do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is perennial as the grass.

You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should.

Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be; and whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul.

With all its sham, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be careful. Strive to be happy."

Dear Editor,

The Junior Class this year has shown much spirit. While this is being written in December, we can already point to several major achievements. Homecoming week we won the spirit chain and were judged first in the float contest. The competition this year featured the best floats ever built here at CHS.

Concession stand activities at ball games are turning out to be hectic, confusing, profitable, and fun!

PSAT and SAT tests are important events in the school year of any college-bound junior.

We are looking forward to sponsoring the prom in the spring, and we want to make this year's prom one to remember.

You're only a junior once, and the class of '75 is making the most of it.

Sophomores Add Their Spirit and Number to CHS

Dear Editor,

Sophomores . . . 312 in number . . . spirited young Athenians . . . Class of '76 immigrated into the halls and classrooms of CHS, with potential as their key word.

It was a giant step from being Tuttle Trojans to being Crawfordsville Athenians, but the class of '76 took it all in stride.

Electing class officers, gaining directions from sponsors and ordering rings increased their school and class pride. With crepe paper, glue and all, they added their float and spirit to the homecoming festivities.

Sophomores met new people with different personalities and, in turn, involved themselves with the atmosphere around them. They had the number, the will and the power to participate in and contribute to the social aspects of CHS.

Athens Lives in Athletics

Homecoming Leaves Lasting Memories

Homecoming 1973 proved to be perhaps the most memorable event of the entire school year. Homecoming required students to strive for their best performances. In return for their involvement, students were rewarded with lasting memories. The week was hectic as each class attempted to complete its float and elect its queen attendant before the Friday night deadline. An ecstatic student body, led by the band, participated in a parade that concluded with a pep rally outside the courthouse.

Athenian spirit was at its peak for the clash with North Montgomery Chargers.

After being crowned by team captain Brad Eggers, Cindi Paligraf was all smiles as she reigned as homecoming queen over her court of seniors, Sherrie Staton and Suzi White; junior, Nancy Gardner; sophomore, Marla Hughes; and honorary attendants, foreign exchange students Alicia Gutierrez and Annelies Hubergtse.

The Juniors' float captured first place with the theme: "Ring Up a Victory." The Athenian gridders did just that, topping their adversaries 27-14. A student council-sponsored dance brought a fun-filled and memorable week to an end.

Athenian gridders finished their season with a 6-4 record, due mainly to their ground game and strong defense which yielded less than nine points per game and claimed three shut-outs.

Although surprised by Brownsburg in the season opener, the Athenians grabbed the next two games against Lafayette Jeff and Central Catholic, leaving only West Lafayette between them and the "Triple Crown." But for the third year in a row, the chance was lost as the Athenians outdid the Red Devils in every category except scoring.

Despite this bitter defeat the gridders came back to win the next four out of six games, losing to conference foes—Carmel and Noblesville.

Caught in a rebuilding year, the 1973 racketeers could not seem to reach that .500 mark. However, only two of the eight varsity players will be graduating and five of the six returners are lettermen.

Matt Dennison, Kevin Pugh, and Steve Sager filled the number one, two, and three positions, while Tom Young had the most consistent season in single matches with ten wins and three losses. Kevin Pugh advanced all the way to the championship singles match of the sectional before encountering a loss—the farthest any CHS player has gone since 1968.

The Athenians placed behind Carmel, Lebanon, and Frankfort in the conference race and finished sixth in the sectional.

Practice, desire, determination and several key performances paid off as Coach Fiedler and the Athenian harriers finished with a 11-2 record.

John Fowler, the team's outstanding member, ran 2,500 miles over a three-year period. He went on to win the Sagamore Conference Championship meet. He also received the most valuable runner award as well as the mental attitude award.

Close behind was team captain, Scott Smith and next year's captain Dave Calkins. The team's placed first at the Harrison Invitational and third in the conference. Dave Demoret and supporting underclassmen will strengthen the 1974 cross country squad.

Tankers' Time Shows Consistency

Athenian tankmen did not rack up an impressive win-loss record, this year; but members turned in consistently good times and in the eyes of coach Mike Reidy, all the swimmers worked up to their potentials. A new high school rule which counts the first five places for scoring, hurt many teams, such as C-ville, that lacked the depth to compete for fifth place. But Coach Reidy, during the first year with the tankers, was quick to point out that only one swimmer, Jerry O'Rourke, will be graduating. Jerry has been a very potent part of the varsity squad for four years. Record performances were turned in this year by Sam Seymour in the 100 and 200 freestyle, and Duane Swisher in the 500 freestyle.

Crown After Shaky Seasonal Start

Athenian cagers put together one of the most successful seasons in recent years, compiling a 16-4 record, and grabbing a share of the conference crown. The team's depth was greater than any under Coach Curtis although only two players had previous varsity experience.

The team's main strength came from a strong defense with solid rebounding. The rebounding chores fell on Mark Hesser, Jon Arvin, and Tim Elmore. At mid-season these three, and later Curtis Stevens, averaged over twelve points per game, contributing to a well balanced scoring attack. For the second consecutive year the Athenians came out on top of the conference race, this year sharing the title with Frankfort and Lebanon. All three teams had 4-1 conference records.

Under Coach Paul Curtis the 1973 golf team finished with a successful 14-5 dual meet record, contributing the best combined record with 65 wins and 15 losses. The team fared well in tournament play, winning both the Sagamore Conference and the Attica Invitational and placing second in the Lebanon sectional.

Team captain Dave Crabtree received the Booster Mental Attitude Award and had the lowest meet average of 81 points. Phil Paligraf was medalist in the Sagamore Conference and the Lebanon sectional. In recognition of a fine team effort, the whole team was awarded MVP for 1973.

Letter winners were Dave Crabtree, John Kendricks, Jerry Servies, Larry Kadinger and Phil Paligraf.

A half-point sectional victory over West Lafayette at the Lafayette Jeff Sectional topped off a superb season for the Athenian grapplers. Besides winning a six-way tourney which they hosted, the wrestlers claimed the conference crown for the third year in a row, although sharing this year's title with Noblesville.

Individual winners in the conference were Mike Cox, Fred Earl, John Jones, Tom Travers, Brad Eggers, and Kevin Berard. Brad Eggers placed second and advanced to the State finals by winning the Twin Lakes Regional. John Jones was elected team captain by the members.

'73 Cindermen Jump to 8-0 Record

Coaches Glenn Knecht and Chuck Fiedler led the Cindermen to an impressive 8-0 dual meet record; but because of fewer members, the team lacked the depth needed to win the big meets.

As evidence of the team's talented performers, Ed Burdett, John Fowler, Dan Stenger, and Clint Dennison all qualified for the regional meet at Frankfort. Clint went on to the State to win second, for his second year in a row, jumping six feet, nine and one half inches.

In addition, two school records were set—Clint Dennison in high hurdles, timing 15.2 seconds, and Dan Stenger in the discus, throwing 146½ feet. Ed Burdett and Clint Dennison had the highest point totals for the season.

Even though the 1973 baseballers failed to post a winning record, other aspects of their season deserve recognition. Four CHS batters had averages above .300; Sam Shelton had a .305, Tom Churchill .308, and Curt Lidikay .320. Randy Ragsdale proved most valuable player with a .402 average, and was elected to the all-conference team. Once again, the Athenians played well in the sectional, losing the title to Wainwright by a mere one point margin.

Although Coach Motz was quite pleased to see a record turnout, this included only five returning lettermen. Experience, however, was gained by the younger players which will strengthen next year's team.

Student Council Fulfills Its Goals in '74

Serving as the voice of the students, organizing homecoming weekend and post game dances, including the well-received nostalgic 50's dance, planning next year's convocations, and holding the reknowned banana eating contest proved the student council did indeed earn its reputation.

This year's officers were Allison Moore, pres.; Jerry O'Rourke, v.p.; Liz Roberts, sec.; and Emmanuel Kaitson, treas.

CHSers Gwen Knecht, Cindy Paligraf and Dennis Robertson, explode on to the dance floor to the music of the Bombers. This was only the third out of the six dances sponsored in '74 by student council.

NHS Seeks to Promote Worthy Leadership

National Honor Society sought to promote an enthusiasm to excel scholastically, a desire to serve, a willingness to lead and a concern for character development. A means of accomplishing these goals was to involve the society's members in as many organizations and activities inside and outside of school as possible. Thus, while the society itself was somewhat loose-knit, its members were bound by this common involvement.

NHS's members were often involved to the extent of actually leading the organizations to which they belonged such as Sunshine, FCA, ATHENIAN, FTA, Gold and Blue, and the senior class.

New NHS members were announced in April of '74. They were awarded membership cards and certificates on underclass and senior honor days.

Sunshine proved its purpose by delivering certificates at Christmas and taking flowers to shut-ins at Easter. Teachers, through monthly treats provided by the S.O.S. (Spreaders of Sunshine) committee, had some sunshine added to their hectic lives. They were also remembered on their birthdays.

President Sally Servies, members, and advisors made the annual candle sale a profitable project. Scheduled meetings included such activities as cake decorating, C.H.S. speech team interpretations and films.

A full sports' schedule caused the 73 year-old traditional Christmas Dance to be replaced by a memorable Valentine's Dance which was held in February.

Pep Block's "Bussing" Policy

Prohibits Segregation of Enthusiasm

Enthusiasm abounded during the 1974 sports season. It started with football in the fall. A fan bus was provided for every away game, and the stands were always overflowing at the home games with enthusiastic CHS Athenians.

Pep Block cheered Athenians always—whether they were winning or losing. Throughout the year pep sessions were held, posters were hung in the halls, and skits were presented. Remember the skit in which the girls advised the team what NEVER to do before a game?

Among the innovations adopted by the Pep Block this year was taking adult fan buses as well as the usual student buses. It was also decided to alter the uniforms of the girls so that they could wear slacks. This proved to be an especially favorable policy during the particularly snowy basketball season.

The major goal of the Pep Block officers and sponsors was to have the biggest Pep Block in the history of CHS. The money making project this year was selling Athenian mugs.

This year the Girls' Pep Block was not alone in backing the teams. The Boys' Pep Block and the eighty-member Pep Band sat with them in their gold and blue uniforms.

HEY, ALL YOU ATHENIAN FANS!
STAND UP AND CLAP YOUR HANDS!

Concert and Marching Band Entertains

During football season the "Marching Athenians," under the direction of Russell H. Ruby, provided half-time entertainment. Their ability won a superior in the ISMA Marching Contest and eighth place in the All State Marching Contest.

Many students participated in the ISMA solo and ensemble contest, which developed their individual talents. The band presented three major concerts; the Christmas, Winter and Spring Festivals. One of the highlights was the hosting of the County Music Festival with Mr. James Church as guest conductor. He worked with many of the students during the summer when they attended the annual ISU marching clinic.

Hosting the ISMA band and choir contest in April was a big task. Thanks to the Music Parents Association, which was active in supporting the music program, many outside activities were made possible.

"Let Me Entertain You"

Ms. Rolfe (Buzz), the new choir director, added spirit to the students who in turn produced enjoyable music for the school and community. This year the choir obtained a better balance with the addition of more male voices. Madrigals, a select group directed by Ms. Rolfe, had a varied repertoire and sang for Kiwanis Club, Rotary Club, B.P.W. and others.

Contests were hectic, but proved rewarding with 55 entries, 31 of which received firsts and were eligible for the state contest held at Butler. In the spring of '73, a group of thirteen was chosen to represent CHS at I.U. in the fall of '74. They sang in the All-State Choir which was composed of 200 individuals.

In March both the choir and band took part in a county festival which was held at CHS. At this time the three county high schools, mass band and mass choir, performed for the public.

Ms. Rolfe gives the choir details concerning the "Sound of Music," a highly successful production.

Auditorium Echoes With "The Sound of Music"

Ms. Margaret Rolfe, "Buzz", began her first year at CHS by directing one of Broadway's biggest musicals, "The Sound of Music." Although it was Ms. Rolfe's initial directing endeavor, her coordinating abilities and the combined talents of a cast which numbered over 125 meshed to create the most profitable and entertaining production in CHS's history. The cast, picked last spring, began serious work when school started, and practiced until November ninth and tenth, when the performance was given. Despite the work involved before and during the play the cast had fun. Just as the Broadway original, CHS's version played to capacity crowds, and netted $850 for only four performances.

Spanish Club reorganized in '74 after two years of inactivity. The first meeting included a "pitch-in" dinner with Alicia Gutierrez, one of CHS's foreign exchange students, as a speaker. She discussed, in her native tongue, the political and social aspects of Colombian life. During the Christmas season the members went caroling after which they broke home-made pinatas at a fiesta in the Boys' Club.

French Club Program Focuses on Food

French Club kicked off the year with a picnic in the park. During the year they ventured to CHEZ JEAN, a French restaurant in Mooresville, where they were required to order in French. They dined on snails, lobster in cheese sauce, lamb chops, French bread, and chocolate chiffon pie for dessert. They also held a progressive dinner in the homes of five members. Members bicycled to the country for a picnic.

During summer vacation ten members of French Club toured France for fifteen days, which provided additional opportunities for French students to further become acquainted with the French culture.

FFC Acquaints Students With Foreign Cultures

Foreign Fellowship Club enjoyed their first meeting with an "International Dinner" consisting of such culinary delicacies as mousaka, guacamola and Russian sardines. Subsequent meetings proved enlightening as exchange students from Colombia, Denmark and Holland discussed economic, political and social conditions in their native lands.

Officers were president Debbie Lovold, vice-president Ann Perry, secretary Sandi Hocking and treasurer Mark Downey.

Paintin' Place Puts "Pizzaz" in CHS

Although funding field trips to Cincinnati and Chicago Art Museums provided some incentive for Paintin' Place, their school spirit was the prime motivating factor for making and selling spirit flowers during homecoming and sectional weeks. Through this and other various artistic representations, members sought an effective means of self-expression.

In October the club held a bake sale and sponsored a car wash under the watchful eye of first year sponsor and former CHS student, Mrs. McCormick.

O.E.A. Offers Valuable Training

O.E.A., Office Education Association, is a nation-wide club which consists of members who also participate in the C.O.E. program. Members meet to discuss problems in the business world and possible solutions. They also participate in contests. These contests are on the district, state and national levels and test the participants' ability in various phases of business.

The club held a car wash in September and attended a Leadership Training Conference in Lafayette in November. An Employer-Employee banquet was sponsored in the spring where members and their employers enjoyed a delightful evening of good food and entertainment.

Key Club Solicits for Cystic Fibrosis

Patterned after Kiwanis Club, and with the same purpose in mind, the Key Club was in its third year at CHS. It was a club to unite people who wanted to help others and be of service in the school and community.

Key Club's first project was a collection for the Cystic Fibrosis Fund. Members went through Crawfordsville on a door-to-door basis until they had collected a sizable contribution for the fund.

During December, the Key Club sponsored a canned foods drive which they delivered to families in Crawfordsville. Officers were: Curtis Stevens, pres.; Kim McKeown, v.p.; Dick Williams, treas. and Dave Calkins, sec.

FCA Attends Ohio, Colorado Conferences

Fellowship of Christian Athletes was open to any boy in CHS regardless of his religious convictions or athletic ability. Members were devoted to furthering an understanding of God and strengthening the ties of Christian fellowship in life and athletics.

The high point of the year was the annual summer conference. FCA members from all over the U.S. met for one week at various locations over the country. The CHS huddle divided into two groups—one went to Estes Park, Colorado, and the other to Dennison U. in Ohio. FCA members earned money for the trip by having a spring car wash.

"Think Speech"

Getting up at 5:00 or earlier on a Saturday morning to go to Terre Haute or Bloomington was part of the fun of being a speech team member. '74 speech team participated in ten meets, not including sectional and NFL tournaments. Members participated in boys' and girls' extemp., original oratory, impromptu, poetry, broadcasting and dramatic and humorous interpretation.

A bake sale was sponsored, "Think Speech" buttons were sold, a babysitting service was held during home basketball games, and members of the team entertained adult organizations such as Kiwanis Club, Lions Club, and the American Legion to make money for transportation to the speech meets.

Junior Achievement '74 Doubles Membership

Members of JA devoted much of their time to organizing and producing a business of their own. All members of the introduction to business classes were required to join JA and in doing so they received one credit.

JA was divided into two companies, Jasom, sponsored by Sommer Metal Craft, and Electro-lite, sponsored by Indiana Bell Telephone Co. Under the direction of Mrs. Streetman, JA sold footstools, flicker lights out of beer and coke cans, cookie sheets and telephone stands.

Enthusiastic astronomers built a portable observatory to house their eight-inch Celestron in time for the coming of comet Kohoutek. The astronomers and photographers coordinated an evening of locating and photographing the spectacle.

A life sciences field trip to I.U. included a demonstration of the electron microscopes and computers and an observation of medical students experimenting with cadavers. Other field trips were taken to Culver Hospital, Methodist Hospital and to Wabash College to listen to modern sciences lectures.

These and other activities were made possible with the new adult sponsors. The club was divided into four subdivisions with Dr. R. Michaels the sponsor for life science; Mr. R. Tunin and Mr. L. McClain, photography; Mr. R. Shaw, astronomy; and Dr. Easterling, modern science.

O-LI-CO-N-AV-A Keeps CHS Functioning

Office, LIbrary, COunselors, Nurse's and AV Assistants gave up their study halls to help serve the student body and personnel of CHS. Acting as receptionists, the guidance assistants conversed with students waiting to confer with the counselors. They also filed records, kept college references in order and took passes to classes.

Checking and reshelfing books was the main duty for the library assistants under the leadership of librarian, Mrs. Carol Campbell. Five registered nurses and seven students from the community volunteered their help to the nurse's clinic. And for the AV assistants as Mr. McAninch, their advisor, stated: "What a crew!"

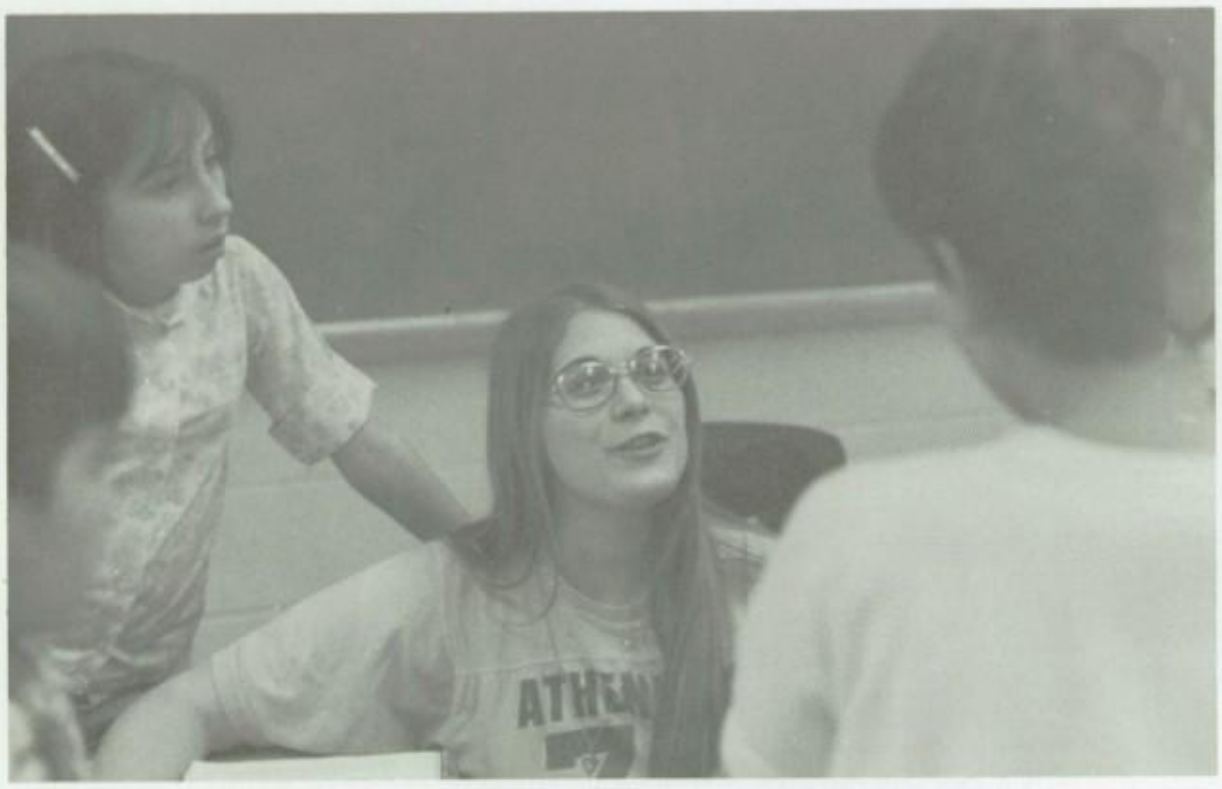
FTA—Now Student Action Through Education



Student Action Through Education (SAE) sold candy to raise money for the scholarship which they granted to a member of the club on awards day. A program was sponsored by the club where students from Southmont High School and CHS exchanged schools for one day in order to observe teaching methods in another school.

Cindy Collings, Debi Morrison, Cyndi Stoker, Diane Taylor, and Bryson Trosper worked in classrooms as cadet teachers at Nicholson, Mills, and Hoover.

A few of her students at Hoover were baffled over their homework assignment, so Cyndi Stoker tries to clear up their problems.

"CHS—We're the Best!"

Seventeen enthusiastic cheerleaders stimulated, then kept alive, that intangible thing known as "school spirit." Much time was spent thinking up new yells and accompanying motions to display a variety of skills at pep sessions and at games. For the first time in the history of CHS a squad of seven male and six female varsity cheerleaders was elected.

B-team and varsity cheerleaders attended a new cheerleading camp at the University of Kentucky. Out of 600 girls they received a blue ribbon for being one of the most spirited groups there.

Gold and Blue Innovates in '74

Gold & Blue editor, Mike Lee, and staff considered this a year for reforming. For the first time in three years the paper was published on a bi-weekly basis. The goal of the staff was to improve with each issue. In December, the Gold & Blue celebrated its 50th anniversary with a special publication.

The 1973-74 paper became a true school production as everything from photography to printing was done within the school. Gold & Blue grew in size and quality. The staff was determined to re-establish a first-class newspaper in C.H.S.

Staff Works Overtime

"What do you mean, you want all the senior pages redone?" "What do you want me to do now?" "Get to work!" "A bill for $3,000?" "You'll get another for $3,000 more soon." "We sold six ads today." The Athenian staff worked in what seemed like confusion, but turned out to be creative productivity. They completed layouts, planned picture schedules, wrote cutlines, headlines, and copy to meet deadlines.

Under the leadership of Jane Kaitson, Russ Causey and Advisor Mrs. Florence Servies the Athenian staff of '74 placed special emphasis on the senior pages, opening, and advertising sections. Brad Eggers prepared the sports section. Beth Boyles and Cindi Paligraf organized the advertising section, while Cecie Howard was in charge of yearbook sales. Julie Dake kept an accurate record of all paid and unpaid bills, while Becky Marthey took pictures, wrote copy, and typed.

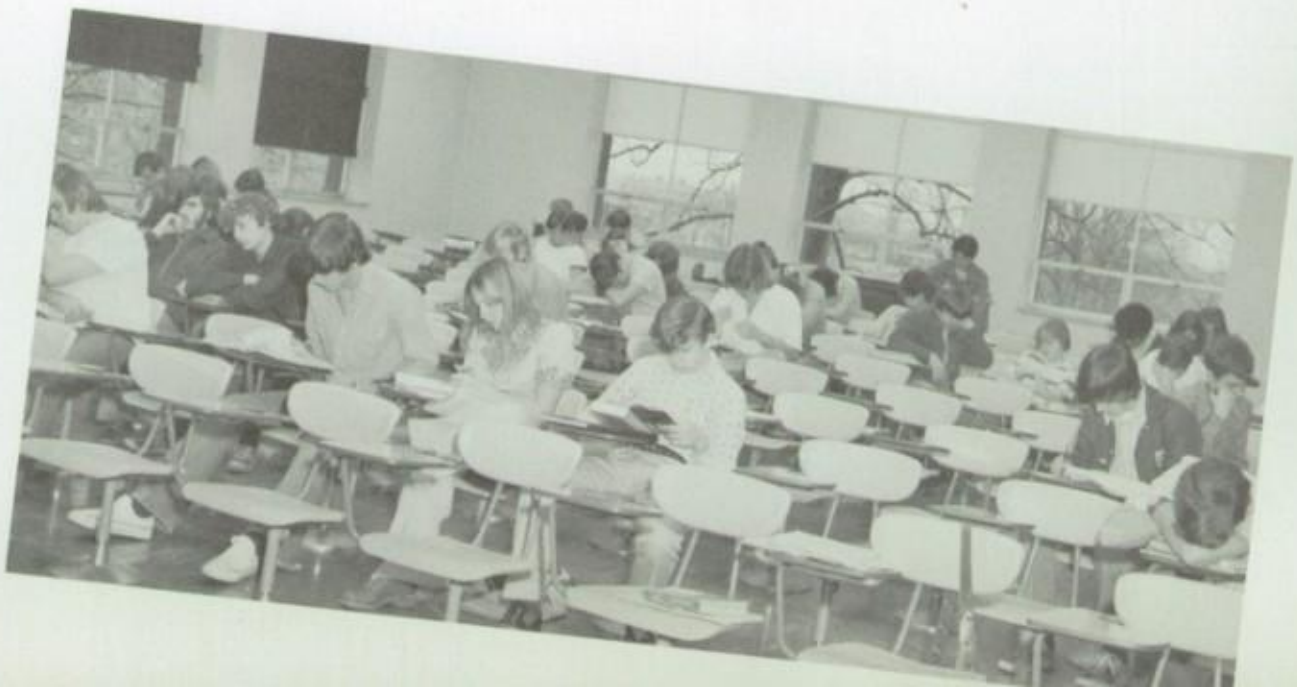
Athens Lives in Academics



Readin', Writin', Speakin', Listenin'

New teachers regenerated the English department programs this year by encouraging students to express themselves. Sophomores were required to participate for one semester in speaking and one semester in literature. Juniors were given the liberty to exercise their creativeness by studying independently different authors, writing themes and a term paper. They also became engrossed in novels and plays such as THE CRUCIBLE, and THE GREAT GATSBY.

English literature, from the Anglo-Saxon period to the twentieth century, was studied in senior English. FLOWERS FOR ALGERNON, 1984, THE AMERICAN DREAM and other books were read, and a research paper was prepared. Greater understanding of the Bible was gained in biblical literature, a one semester course taught by the department coordinator, Mrs. Herr.

1–Seniors ponder over their assignment from their Shakespearean play, "Macbeth," but Mrs. Schott grins at their feeble attempts.
2–Sophomores go through the motions of group discussion, one of the many facets of speech. (L to R) J. Huxhold, P. Rehmel, C. Jones, R. Oliver, and G. Gravens discuss the pros and cons of the present grading system.
3–Mrs. Stutzman interprets a problem for Betty Melvin.
4–Ms. Wiley, a former teacher in Chicago for six years, joined the English Department, teaching juniors.
5–(L to R) Amy Misch, Shelley Addler, Debbie Davis, Candy Rector, Leslie Whitecotton join Ms. Lather, new on the CHS staff, in a discussion.

Mystique of Unknown Probed by Science

Canoeing down Sugar Creek to hunt for snakes, visiting Camp Rotary on an ecology trip, going to King's Island to observe laws of physics present on the midway, and building an observatory for Celestron-8 telescope were some of the activities in the science department.

Throughout the year students discovered the mystique of science by experimenting and applying their knowledge in laboratories, listening to lectures, seeing films and delving into their textbooks. A steam sterilizer and ten new 800 power microscopes were added to the biology department.

During her first year as CHS's chemistry teacher, Mrs. Nail put emphasis on laboratory experience as well as teaching the basic concepts of chemistry. Mr. Richmond was curriculum co-ordinator.

1–Second year biology student, Kathy Mielke, listens attentively as Mr. Richmond explains how the gills of a common goldfish function.
2–Mr. Thompson, one of the board members of the Indiana Junior Academy of Science, demonstrates the significance of static electricity to Jon Dean, v.p., and Karen Brugge, sec., of the organization.
4–Mrs. Nail assists Dennis Clements in measuring the number of grams in a mole of sodium sulfate.

History, government, economics, sociology and psychology comprised the Social Studies Department. Students studied the important factors in the major countries of the world, the history of our nation, and the basis of our American economy and government. Current events were also stressed in every class.

United States history provided the juniors with a knowledge of the past events of our country. Economics and government were required one-semester courses for the seniors. The former acquainted seniors with our country's free enterprise system and the open market economy; the latter with the executive, legislative and judicial branches of our government. The behavior of individuals and groups of individuals was studied in psychology and sociology classes offered to seniors.

People's Attitudes Toward the Future

1—Ms. Lather, the only new and female member in the social studies department, instructs her junior U.S. history class in group discussion.
2—"May I roll the tape?" will be the question soon to be asked by economics teacher, Mr. Lebedeff, as his students diligently finish taking notes from the overhead projector.
3—Surprise!! Is the look on Joni Deer's face, as Mr. Avery passes out report cards, one of amazement at her success or disappointment at her failure?
4—The sociology classes of Mr. Burgess, curriculum coordinator of the social studies department, sponsored a Christmas gift drive for the mentally ill. Displaying some of the gifts are (L to R) Kathie Conrad, Beth Sommer and Mary Runge.

CHS Enhanced in Art, Music and Drama

Acquisition of new teachers saw the coinciding advent of new courses in the arts department. A challenging music theory class sharpened the minds of the more advanced music lovers. Ms. Rolfe, newly acquired from the grade school system, provided the leadership for this class. Mrs. Schott, senior English teacher, enabled CHS's future Burtons and Taylors to display their talents in acting. In her new role as teacher, former CHS student Mrs. McCormick, enhanced the art department. The art room was available to the students for making hall and skit decorations.

1—Music theory class.
2—Band plays marching music indoors as well as out.
3—Drama class watches Linda Leedy performing a dramatic interpretation from the CRUCIBLE.
4—Pam Kidd expresses herself on canvas.
5—Mrs. McCormick helps Tina Smith with her poster project.

1—Mrs. McDevitt, a new teacher in the Home-economics department of CHS, instructs Mark Dagley and Nino Norvell on the proper care of clothing as they prepare for bachelorhood.
2—Sandy Peacock learns to coordinate colors and patterns for interior decorating in second year home-economics.
3—Shelly Addler plans the various color schemes for each room of her house. Other students in second year home-economics making similar plans are (L to R) Leesa Clark, Susie Kendall, Cindy Simmons, Kamya Rhodes, and Ellen Mikesell.

Domestic, Vocational Studies

Principles to shop wisely, balance a budget and keep a home running smoothly were taught in home economics. Girls gained practical experience in studying child care by conducting a day care nursery. The male students learned to sew, cook, iron and even do dishes.

Woodshop students displayed their skills by making cabinets, gunracks, picnic tables and cutting boards. Setting type to print each issue of the Gold and Blue gave experience to students in print shop. Students in electronics constructed radios while others learned how to operate machines. Drafting emphasized accuracy for future architects and engineers.

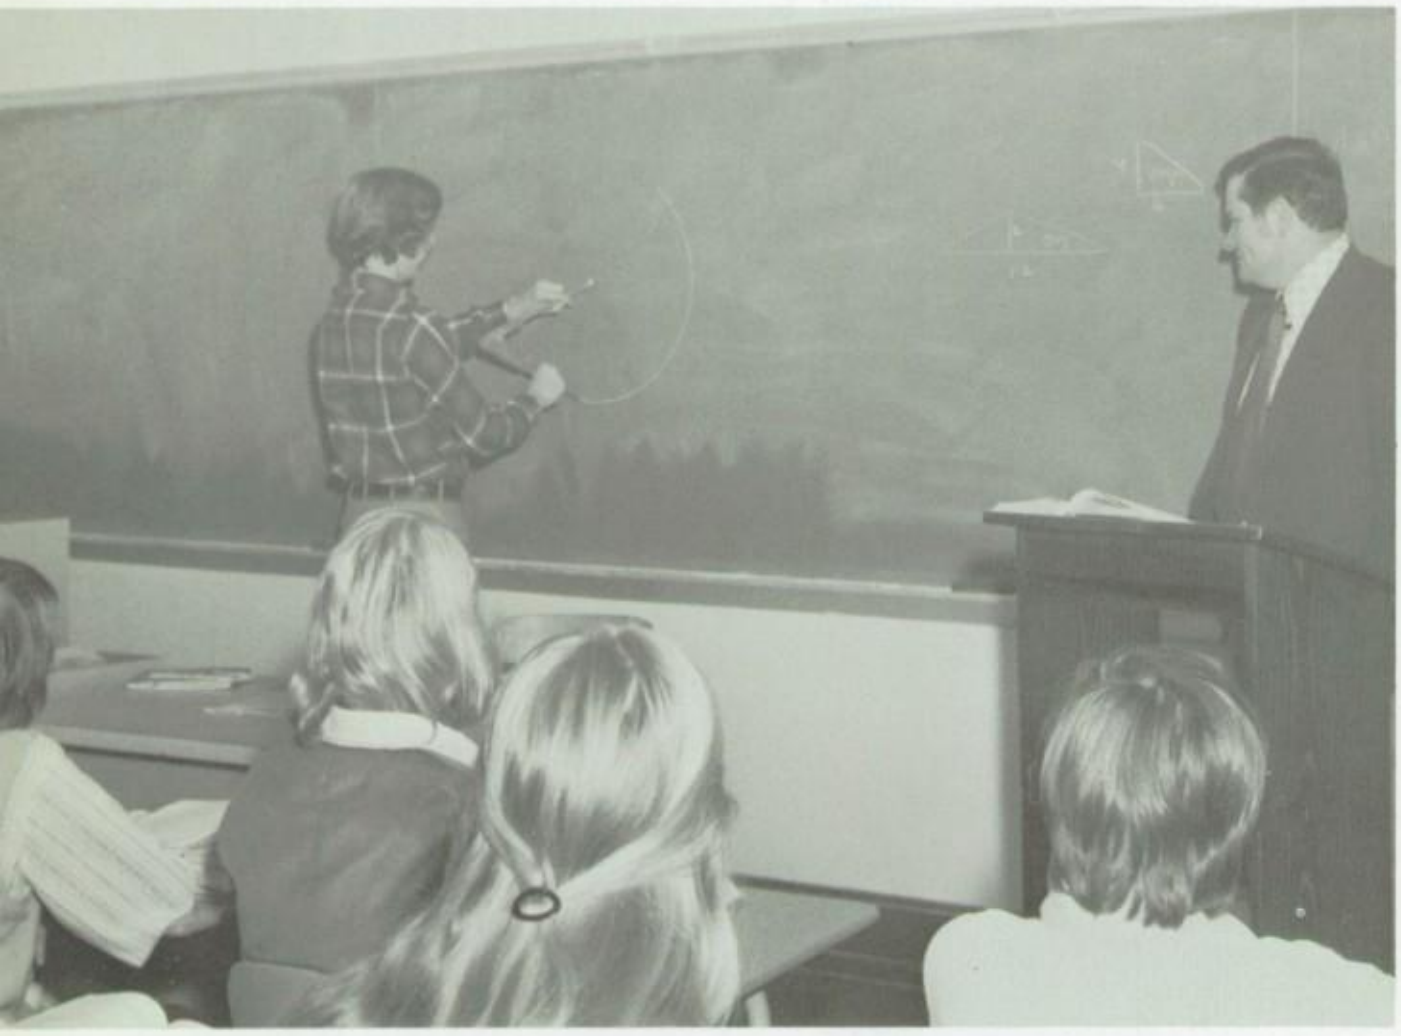
1—Terry Chrisman, Butch Stout and Mark Hoffa set type.
2—"This is how we do it," explains, Mr. Waldridge, new in the industrial arts dept., as Richard Henderson looks at the formula for the radius of his circle.
3—John Schetzle applies skills he has gained in woodshop.

Problems + Answers = Mathematics



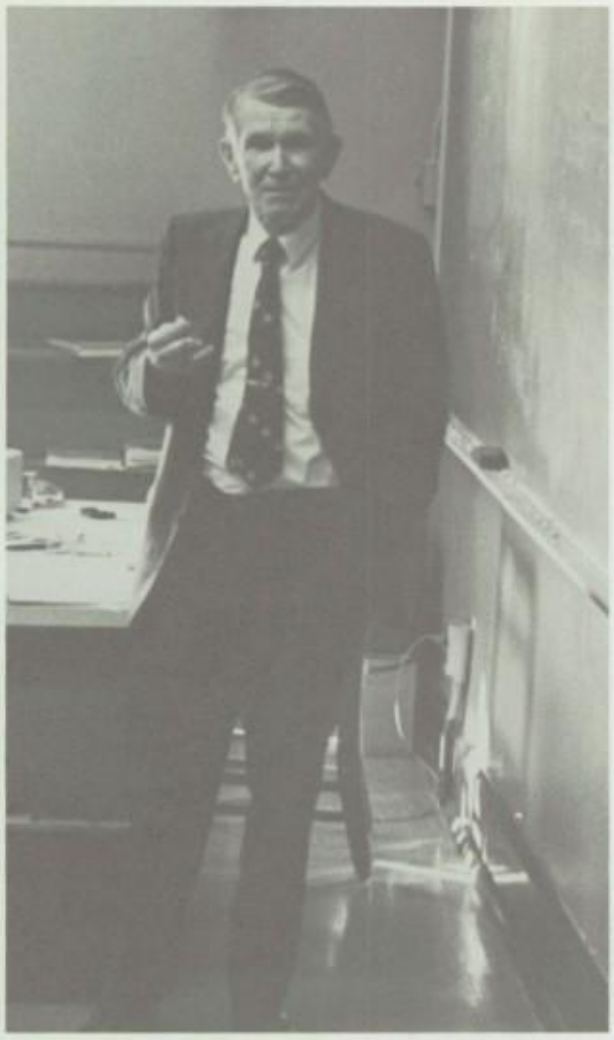
1

Progression in mathematical knowledge at CHS began, as always, in the field of geometry. Sophomores were forced to take compass and protractor in hand in order to better conceive the seemingly infinite postulates and theorems as elucidated by Mr. Curtis. This background proved valuable for juniors who took advanced algebra. Mr. Whitehead, besides his duties as algebra instructor, introduced the language of the computer to all those interested in a one semester computer math course.

The number of students taking math shrank by the senior year. Only the truly dedicated math student enrolled in Mr. Dawson's challenging senior math class.

For the interested student who lacked a proper background, Mr. Knecht's basic math class proved worthwhile.

2



3

1—Mr. Curtis involves his students in a pre-test review.
2—Mr. Whitehead relieves the pressures of advanced algebra with a story (Mathematical in nature, no doubt).
3—Mr. Dawson-entrepreneur and part-time curriculum co-ordinator of CHS's math department.
4—Mr. Knecht checks to see who didn't take the basic math test the previous day.
5—Data, read, and print statements are just a small part of the computer language learned by Debbie Brugge.

Business Dept. Demonstrates Efficiency

Business classes ranged from shorthand, office machines, to consumer economics and business law. New calculating and adding machines were used in the accounting room and COE laboratory, where speed and accuracy were stressed at all times. Miss Janet Hohl, a graduate of I.U., replaced Mrs. Runge Welch, who married and moved to Florida. Mrs. Welch taught typing and shorthand for several years in CHS.

Cooperative Office Education, COE, supplied students with on-the-job training, under the direction of Mrs. Servies, curriculum co-ordinator.

1—Jocele Wood, CHS's outstanding business student for three consecutive years.
2—Miss Janet Hohl replaced Mrs. Runge in January.

Activities Enliven Language Studies

Piñatas, tacos, anticuchos, records and the language lab acquainted students with the Spanish culture. A few were orientated for their eight-week summer trip to Spain to study and understand the Spanish people and language. While they made plans, some French students prepared themselves for a fifteen-day tour of France. French cuisines were created by French students while Monsieur Meupin, their student teacher, led them in conversation. Mrs. Lyon taught one class of second year Latin.

1

1—Mrs. Oxley, who divides her time between CHS and Tuttle, gives Rosemary Oshrey directions as to which direction the piñata is located, while everyone watches in amusement.
2—Bob Zahn est présenté a Jeanne Millis par Mme. Howlett dans la classe de francais. Jon Brooks regarde avec interêt l'évenément.

Library—More Than Just Books

1

Several new sets of books on music and musicians, literature, theater, drama, arts and automobiles were acquired by the library. It also became the proud possessor of a dictionary cart which contained various dictionaries including spelling, English, mathematics, and science. It obtained four new sound-slide sets. It also added several new films for physics, woodworking and textiles along with various records for band, choir and English.

The library kept an accurate file of current events and subscribed to 112 magazines. These magazines are kept for five years so that students and teachers can use them for reference. It also subscribed to four different newspapers.

The library received new books often which were processed by Mrs. Campbell, librarian, and Mrs. Whitecotton, secretary. These books were placed on a cart for students to easily choose a current book. Displays from art classes or by CHS students were viewed in the library.

The library definitely has grown and continues to provide students with valuable tools for learning and pleasure.

1—Jorgen Thomsen checks out what BRITANNICA says about Denmark.
2—Filing magazines and newspapers are library assistants (L to R) Janelle Wilson and Julie Gentry.

Coordination Important to P.E., Driver's Ed

Neither rain, snow, heat, nor gloom of day discourages Mr. Knecht from providing the required driving instructions to (L to R) Marlon McAllister, John Kendricks, and Sally Sutherland.

Although approaching the task in different manners, both P.E. and Driver's Ed. developed mental as well as physical coordination within the individual, whether it was running the 50-yard dash for the President's Council on Physical Fitness, or taking reaction tests to determine driving ability. Both courses provided students with important training.

Mr. Knecht provided his experience for the inexperienced driver, while Mr. Motz again provided the leadership and organization for the boys' P.E. classes. Besides her duties as girls' P.E. instructor, Miss Jones, in her first year at CHS, coached the girls' basketball and gymnastics teams.

Volleyball allows entertaining competition in advanced P.E. classes.

Mrs. Florence Servies	Advisor

We, a relieved staff, realized the end of the school year as we sent in the final pages of the ATHENIAN. We are deeply grateful to Mr. Gil Hutton, from PHOTO ART STUDIO, who provided us with many excellent pictures, to Mr. Dick Kennard, a great publisher's representative, and his assistant, Derald Ailes. Also, we extend our thanks to the advertisers and patrons who helped defray the cost of the ATHENIAN.

Spending hours of helping and guiding us was our advisor, Mrs. Florence Servies. Without her assistance the book would not have been produced so efficiently.

The 1974 ATHENIAN was published by Newsfoto Yearbooks in San Angelo, Texas.

THE IMMORTAL INFLUENCE

OF ATHENS IS SEEN

WHEN PEOPLE RULE THEMSELVES,

WHEN THEY STRIVE TO LEARN,

WHEN THEY WORK TO SUCCEED.

THIS INFLUENCE IS NOT GONE,

IT CAN BE FOUND IN CHS–

ATHENS LIVES.
